

Share the Road

We want your time at Berkeley Lab to be safe and crash free. Anyone using the roads can help prevent injuries by following laws and regulations.

- Be mindful of your surroundings
- Stop at stop signs
- Follow the speed limits

Drivers

- Respect the 3-foot passing law
- Slow when passing a cyclist
- Sharrows (right) remind drivers that a bicyclist can occupy the entire lane
- Watch for cyclists when merging into traffic and making turns

Pedestrians

- Pocket your phone
- Use crosswalks

Cyclists

- Visit a local bike shop — have your bike checked for safety
- If you are not comfortable riding a bike on hills, consider using a bike rack on a Lab shuttle or van
- Wear a helmet (required at the Lab)
